HCBA Overview

The Huntingdon County Builders Association (HCBA) is a group of professional builders and associated businesses dedicated to the promotion and development of the highest ethical and professional standards in the building industry throughout Huntingdon County.

Our goals and objectives include:

- Educating youth and educators about building trades and associated careers and employment opportunities.
- Educating members about issues facing the building industry and on topics that will improve their professionalism and skills.
- Educating the public about the association and it's purpose.
- Creating member awareness through attendance at state regional and board meetings.
- Implementing programs and events to support PaCAH goals.

In order to gain membership in the HCBA, we check references from the prospective members' vendors, banks and customers. All contractor members are required to provide a copy of their liability insurance certificate. Members of HCBA are also members of the National Association of Home Builders and the Pennsylvania Builders Association.
